Dear FDA,

I am writing you this note in regards to docket numbers 98N-1230, 96P-0418, and 97P-0197.

I realize the importance of animal protein in our diets. I dream about the day when we can find a method to raise the farm animals we consume in a humane way. I feel guilty that we put the animals through inhumane and cruel processes before we eat them. Perhaps we would all be a little healthier if we consumed happy, contented animals. I am sure we will evolve. It is such a slow process. Perhaps addressing the forced molting issue would be another giant step forward toward humane treatment of farm animals.

Thank you for your time and considerations in this matter.

Sincerely,

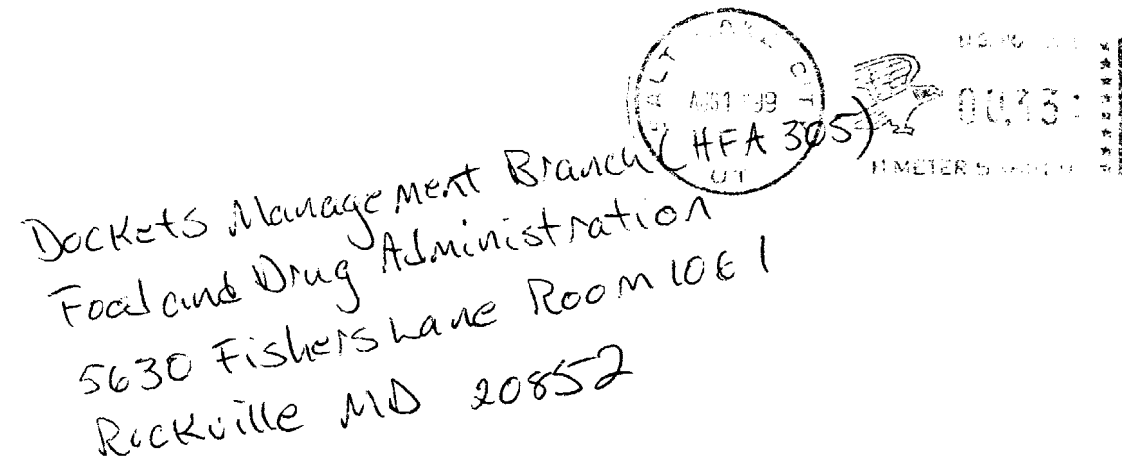

Dezi Hemingway
